Discussion

- Request for road closure of Cross St. for a block party on 7/16. We have previously approved this request with no issues. The Council approved this request via voice vote.
- Referring a potential ordinance relating to chickens to the Board of Health: Mayor Chegwidden advised that he asked the Housing and Zoning Officer and the Health Officer to attend the meeting because a potential new ordinance would be passed by the Board of Health, but concerns the Housing and Zoning Officer as well. Housing Zoning Officer, Mr. Lewthwaite advised that following complaints and other issues with backyard chickens in town he reviewed multiple other towns ordinances for guidance and put together a draft for the Board of Health to consider as a starting point. It is not too restrictive and allows most people who would want to have backyard chickens to do so, but with some regulations. There are sanitary concerns as well as safety and traffic concerns with this issue. Health Officer, Trevor Wiegler advised that some of the health concerns about this include the type of coop, food for the chickens, waste management, rodent control, and that chickens are prey for other animals. He advises careful wording of the ordinance. A discussion on this item followed including multiple members of the Council. Items that were discussed included- other towns ordinances to review, number of existing homes with chickens in town, roosters, and yard size in relation to coop size. Mr. Lewthwaite noted that this is not to stop people from having chickens, but to regulate it so it's safe and healthy for everyone.

Mayor Chegwiddden opened the meeting to the public relating to this topic.

Ana Jones, 124 Old Irondale Rd.: Ms. Jones has chickens on her property. Prior to getting them, she educated herself on proper ownership and takes good care of her coop. Her yard is cleaned well and she hasn't seen any rodents. She likes having a food source and teaching her granddaughter about where food comes from.

Scott Hutchins, DPW Director: Mr. Hutchins clarified that the intent is not to not allow people to have chickens, but to make it so that it works for everyone. Responsible owners are not the problem, but there are always people who don't follow the rules. We may want to consider including an educational component for those looking to register.

Russel Sieb, NJ Pest Control: Mr. Sieb has a lot of experience in this area and is willing to consult if necessary. Any regulations have to be a well written program and you need responsible owners.

This matter will now be referred to the Board of Health.
